The program is designed to work with your Windows XP system. IndicXP Lite is a free, lightweight software program from the Messaging and More subcategory of the Communicates & Multimedia category. The program is designed to work with your Windows XP system. IndicXP Lite is the ideal solution for people who need to typeset data in Hindi without the need of knowing English. It's the best alternative to any software offered by the Messaging and More subcategory such as: Easton English IME for Windows XP, Indian Setup Pro for Windows 2000/XP or any other program that adds the support of Indic to Windows applications. IndicXP Lite for Windows 2000 and XP version is a pure Windows application that helps system users to typeset Hindi texts in Hindi using English as an intermediate language. It is compatible with Windows XP, Windows 2000 and Windows ME operating systems. It supports both English and Hindi languages. IndicXP Lite is a 100% FREE software to change the default keymap to CTRL+SHIFT for language switching in Windows XP and 2000 operating systems. It modifies the Windows keymap files to suit your needs and those of the Indic script and supports switching between Windows and Indic script. It auto detects and modifies your keyboard settings to work with the Indic script, so you don't need to do it manually. It also gives you the option to change the keymap back to ALT+SHIFT+Num. Changes key layout to switch to English and to the Indic Script in Windows XP and Windows 2000. Requires any Windows XP/2000/ME CD-ROM for language support (no patch required). This keymapping utility was reviewed by the Best Software Update team. IndicXP Lite is a free software program developed by Technosoft Solutions. The most common release is 7.0.1034.0. Delphi based language has been used in HindiXP Lite to implement other functions. Please let me know in case you need support with other programming languages Download HindiXP Lite Recommended packages For a person living in a country where the main language is Hindi Unicode support becomes an absolute necessity. This is why I have developed HindiXP Lite - A real life user interface for Hindi fonts that is light weight enough to be used along with any other English fonts. Supported languages HindiXP Lite supports all major languages of India but written in Devanagari. Please note that my project won't be complete till I support other languages in India. It is not too late to include your language. If you are willing to help in this project. Please send me your language. Include a screen shot of your application where you can copy & paste text. Any information that I can use in my project like UI, programming language, etc. will be warmly welcomed. I would also like to know if I can use it in my commercial application. Also if you know good free source for Unicode support of language then send me the link. The idea is to keep HindiXP Lite simple. It is expected to be easy to use and light weight. Once it is done, it will be opened for public download. b7e8df5c8
